

Trapped Miners Say Drill Near Their Chamber

By JAMES V. LAMB
Associated Press Staff Writer

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—David Fellin, 58, and Henry Throne, 28, two of the trapped coal miners, reported in excited shouts today as the 3rd 12 inch escape hole drilled into their chamber. It will take 30 more hours to get them out.

By JAMES V. LAMB

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—Drilling of a new escape hole for the three trapped miners reached a point today where two of the men reported they could hear the drill. The rescue crews slowed the pace of the giant drilling rig, which stands 10 stories high, and proceeded cautiously around the 300-foot level.

They asked David Fellin, 58, and Henry Throne, 28, to keep a close watch on the ceiling above the 14-by-8-foot chamber where they have been trapped 331 feet underground for 10 days.

"Let us know the first signs of dust or anything," the man handling communications from the surface told them via a microphone through the six-inch lifeline hole. "Keep track of it and tell us when to stop."

"We will," replied Fellin. Two previous escape hole tries have failed, the latest one Thursday.

If all goes well, the 12-inch drill was expected to break through around mid-afternoon. Drilling slowed to avoid any possibility of a new cave-in.

After the 12-inch hole is completed, the next step will be to enlarge it to 17 inches. This probably will take another 30 hours.

A second drilling rig, much smaller than the 10-story-high one boring the escape hole, is drilling a four-inch-hole toward the area where Louis Bova, 48, is believed trapped.

Bova was separated from the others by about 25 feet of debris after a cave-in 10 days ago — about 9 a.m. Aug. 13.

A six-inch lifeline hole reached Throne and Fellin last Sunday, but Bova has had no food since the cave in except what he might have had with him.

Throne and Fellin sleep fitfully at random times. Two mechanical breakdowns delayed the escape hole drilling for a total of 3½ hours before dawn today.

Experts on the drilling rigs expect difficulties as a matter of routine in going through hard rock. They have a complete duplicate set of parts on hand at all times.

Optimism prevailed for Throne and Fellin. Bova's fate was uncertain. There have been no reports about him since Tuesday.

Homecoming at Oak Grove Church

Oak Grove Methodist Church will hold its annual homecoming Sunday, August 25 with Sunday School at 10 a.m. and preaching at 11 a.m. by the Rev. Claude Hines, pastor.

Lunch will follow morning services. Singing during the afternoon will be in charge of Harold Duke. The church is located one and a half miles east of Shover Spring.

The faculty for the year is as follows: Edward D. Spencer, Supt., and Science, Chester Bullock, Principal and Math.; Aubrey McEachern, Coach and Jr. High Social Studies; Glenn Coggins, Agriculture; Mrs. J. T. Adams, English and High School Social Studies; Mrs. Lloyd Smittle, Home Economics; Mrs. Edward D. Spencer, Commercial and Librarian; Mrs. Glenn Coggins, 5th and 6th Grades; Mrs. C. D. Ward, 3rd and 4th Grades; and Mrs. Aubrey McEachern, 1st and 2nd Grades.

Other school employees are Bus Drivers: John Barkman, Howell Harris, and Hess Purdie; Cooks: Mrs. Edgar Campbell, Manager and Mrs. Lotie Dillard; and Custodian: Jimmy Johnson.

There are several improvements being made around the school this summer. The black-boards are being repainted, several classrooms are being repainted, new desks have been added to the 5th and 6th grade room, the floors have been re-finished, two new sinks added in the Home Economics building, and plans are to repaint the Agriculture building.

The district has also been allocated through the State Agent for Surplus Property a 1959 Ford Pick-Up truck which will be used for field trips, to carry sick students home, for general hauling, and any other manner that will reduce the wear and tear on the school buses.

Pupils who are entering the first grade this year are required by State Law to have a small pox vaccination and a birth certificate.

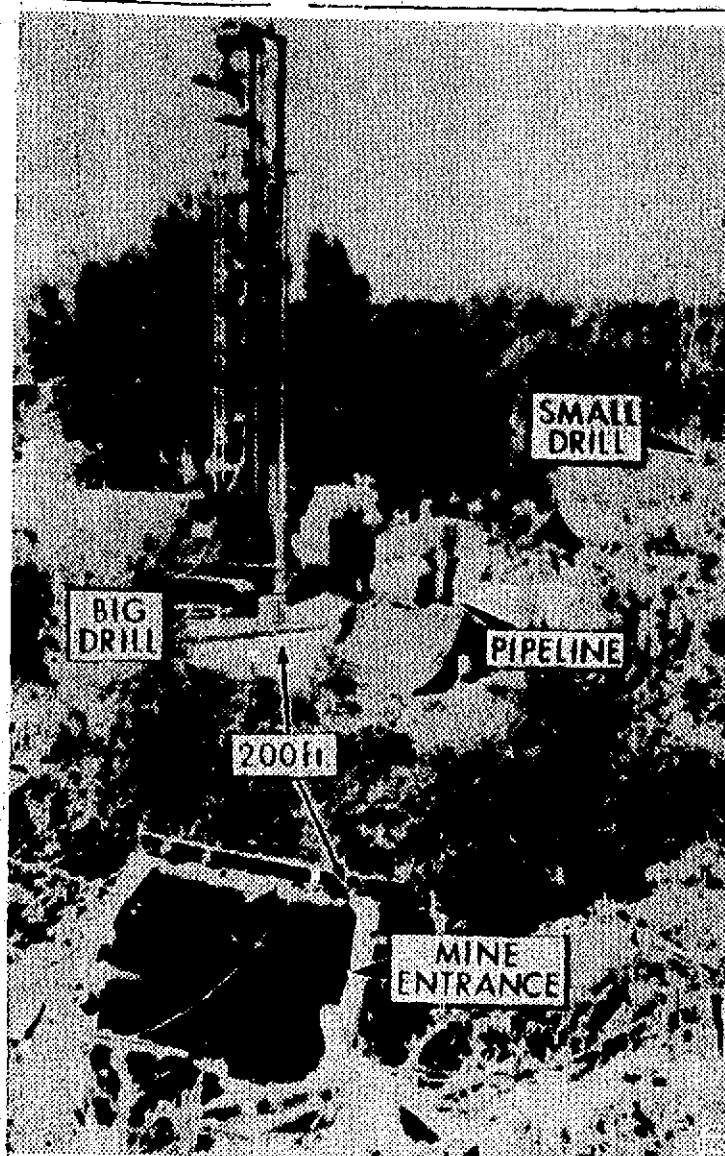

Scientists Fly to Hurricane

WASHINGTON (AP)—Scientists flew from a Puerto Rican base toward hurricane Beulah today to decide whether to seed the storm with chemicals.

A Weather Bureau spokesman said the Navy planes carrying the scientists took off from Roosevelt Roads Air Station about 8 a.m. this morning and are due back at 7 p.m., Puerto Rican time.

The director of Project Storm Fury, Dr. Robert H. Simpson of the Weather Bureau, made the announcement in Miami.

Earlier, the Weather Bureau reported Beulah was beating a path toward open seas with winds at the center of up to 80 miles an hour.

ATTEMPT FAILS — A second attempt by rescue workers to drill through to two miners trapped 331 feet underground for 10 days near Shepton, Pa., ended in disappointment when the drill bit drifted off course and hit rock near where the men are believed entombed. The diagram spots the big drill that missed its mark, a small drill that sunk a six-inch contact hole where a third miner is trapped, the pipe line used to lower supplies to the men and the mine entrance.

Talk Bounced Across World by Satellite

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and the prime minister of Nigeria bounced a conversation across the Atlantic by way of the new Syncom satellite today and Kennedy walked away with a smile and a remark: "What hath God wrought?"

The talk between Kennedy and Sir Abubakar Tafawa Balewa of Nigeria was part of a ceremony formally inaugurating service by the satellite launched July 26.

The President's impromptu remark borrowed for the new age of space communications the four words famous by the inventor of the telegraph, Samuel F. B. Morse.

Morse, demonstrating his new telegraph, sent those words May 24, 1844, from the Capitol in Washington to his partner, Alfred Vail, in Baltimore.

Kennedy spoke from the White House and Balewa from a U.S. Navy tracking ship, the Kingsport, in the harbor at Lagos, Nigeria.

Only the Washington end of the conversation was audible to newsmen here, but apparently it consisted mostly of pleasantries.

The exchange was only part of a more extensive ceremonial. Part of the demonstration consisted of a radio broadcast linking Washington, New York and Lagos.

Goldwater Drive Set Up by GOPs

The Hempstead County Republican Club will operate a downtown headquarters for eight days to give local residents an opportunity to sign petitions for Barry Goldwater for president.

The headquarters will be in the rear of the National Bank Building in the former location of Stewart's Jewelry store.

Hours will be from 8:45 a.m. to 5:15 p.m. Each day affording everyone an opportunity to visit and sign a petition. These in turn will be sent to the citizens for Goldwater Headquarters in Valley Forge, Pennsylvania. This is a non-partisan group who will present all petitions to the republican convention in 1964 in support of Goldwater's nomination.

Persons wishing to have a petition to take with them to get others to sign will also be available. Persons on duty at the headquarters will inquire if those who visit would support Winthrop Rockefeller for Governor. This will be in the nature of a survey and you will not be asked to sign a petition for Winthrop Rockefeller for governor.

Boy Wanders in Wilds Five Days, Is Safe

TAHOE CITY, Calif. (AP)—A Compton, Calif., boy was under a doctor's watchful eye today after a five-day ordeal alone in the Sierra wilderness.

Peter Thomas Barajas, 14, was hiking down a trail Thursday when he was found by a San Francisco man and his daughter, headed for the Sierra back country to fish.

Peter got a good meal, a happy reunion with his parents, a thorough checkup by a doctor and was put to bed at the home of a relative in Tahoe City, on the western edge of Lake Tahoe.

The doctor who examined Peter said he came through with no serious injuries, but suffered a minor concussion, a broken nose, bruises and scrapes and a very sore foot from a fall on rocks early Sunday morning.

Peter was also running a fever from an infection, said Dr. Ray Wiser.

Movie Stars Accused by Gadsden Mayor

By REX THOMAS

GADSDEN, Ala. (AP)—Mayor Leslie Gilliland angrily accused four visiting movie stars today of rabble-rousing tactics in racially troubled Gadsden, and promised to jail them if they violated the law.

One of the actors, Paul Newman, denied any attempt to cause trouble and said in fact that he and his colleagues, including Marlon Brando, talked Gadsden Negroes out of staging another in a long series of street demonstrations.

The visiting Hollywood celebrities had announced plans to seek conferences with city officials and industrial leaders in what they described as an attempt to establish communications between the races in this industrial city where hundreds were arrested in recent protest marches.

The mayor said he would not talk with the movie stars because, he said, "I feel they are serving no purpose in Gadsden except to create trouble and chaos."

Gilliland accused them of making the trip to Gadsden for publicity.

He added: "All of the trouble we've had in Gadsden has been caused by outside rabble-rousers coming in here and using our Negro people for their own gain. We have nothing but contempt for people such as these movie stars who are here, and the quicker they move and go back where they came from, the better off we'll all be."

Brando, Newman and the other two actors, Anthony Franciosa and Virgil Frye, had already announced their plans to leave Gadsden tonight.

Newman, answering the mayor's statement, denied any publicity-seeking motive and said that he, Brando and Franciosa have become known in the past for efforts to avoid publicity.

He said Southern people are willing to ask movie stars to help them raise funds for such things as hospitals "and they don't call us agitators then."

There was some talk that the movie stars might lead a protest march to dramatize the Negro's struggle for racial equality.

But the Academy Award-winning Brando said no march was planned today.

He said he or other movie celebrities will return to Gadsden at an unspecified date to continue their work in behalf of the Negro community.

The four entertainers spoke to a Negro church rally Thursday night, receiving wild acclaim from the overflow audience, then spent the night in a Negro apartment hotel.

This morning they had breakfast in a Negro drugstore adjoining the apartment building and were surrounded by newsmen and Negro well-wishers.

He told the cheering, hymn-singing Negroes that the "vast reservoir of public opinion" is sympathetic with their fight against segregation.

GADSDEN, Ala. (AP)—Stirred by a wildly-cheering Negro greeting, Marlon Brando and three fellow movie actors sought to convince Gadsden officials today that Negroes must have racial equality.

They promised to seek conferences with members of the City Commission and officials of two of the major industries — Good-year Company and Republic Steel — in what they described as an effort to establish better communications between the races.

Foreign Aid Bill Cut $1 Billion as House Hands JFK a Setback

Committee Acts to Avert Railway Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Commerce Committee, working against a Thursday strike deadline, approved today a bill providing for binding arbitration to settle the deadlocked dispute over railroad work rules.

The bill, calling for the creation of a seven-man arbitration board, is to be taken up by the Senate Monday.

The board would be composed of two representatives of the carriers and two of the unions and of three public members designated by the other four unions, or, if they are unable to agree, appointed by the President.

The committee rejected President Kennedy's proposal for submitting the four-year-old dispute to the Interstate Commerce Commission, which would have been empowered to issue work rules binding for two years.

The bill follows the lines of a proposal made a week ago by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz for creation of an arbitration panel.

The bill, approved by the Commerce Committee without dissent, would bar a strike or walk-out or the posting of new work rules, ending arbitration of the dispute.

The bill provides for referring to the arbitration board the two main issues in dispute—firemen's jobs and the make-up of train crews.

Collective bargaining would be attempted on other lesser issues in dispute, but if they could not be resolved by negotiation they also would be submitted to the board for arbitration.

The arbitration board would be required to begin its hearings 30 days after enactment of the legislation or at such earlier date as the parties and the board might agree upon.

The board would have to file its award not later than 60 days after it commenced its hearings, and in no event later than 90 days after enactment of the resolution.

Wirtz' proposal, accepted immediately without reservation by the carriers and conditionally by the five rail unions involved in the dispute, was to submit the two key issues to an arbitration panel composed of management, union and public representatives. Other issues, such as wage structure, would be left to separate negotiation.

The two parties, however, bogged down in trying to reach agreement on timing and procedures.

Magnuson said Thursday that whatever bill the committee brings Continued on Page Three

Armed Forces Taking Over in Viet Nam

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—Vietnamese armed forces appeared today to be taking over control of ministries in President Ngo Dinh Diem's administration, without challenge to his over-all leadership.

The government announced all ministries will take orders from the military for the duration of the martial law period.

Amid political turmoil over the government's blows at its Buddhist opponents, U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge visited two monks who have lived in asylum in the American aid mission since escaping there from arrest.

U.S. sources said Lodge paid a courtesy call on the monks barely 12 hours after he arrived in troubled Saigon Thursday night as the envoy of President Kennedy's administration.

The visit of the tall, 61-year-old American diplomat to the yellow-robed refugees even before meeting Diem, a Roman Catholic, seemed significant.

Lodge was reported to have asked some American officials later to take suitable food to the monks, who are vegetarians. His predecessor, Frederick E. Nolting Jr., was reticent about having any contacts with Buddhist monks.

The capital was alive with rumors of general strikes, Buddhist suicides and street fights, but conditions appeared quiet with the U.S. supplied Vietnamese army on watch under martial law.

Charleston Ordered to Integrate

By AL LANIER

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP)—Charleston has been ordered to admit 11 Negroes to its all-white schools on Sept. 3. School officials reluctantly bowed to the ruling Thursday by U.S. Dist. Judge J. Robert Martin Jr.

Two white high schools and two white grammar schools in this port city, smoldering from summer-long racial demonstrations, will be integrated.

Judge Martin's ordered covered 13 students involved in the original integration suit, but one has graduated from high school and another has moved from the district.

Judge Martin cleared the way for integration of all city schools. He said no qualified Negro can be denied admission to a white school after September 1964.

The order affects School District No. 20, which has 3,108 white pupils Continued on Page Three

Southerners, GOPs Handle Solid Defeat

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House gave President Kennedy a stunning setback today by slashing $585 million from the foreign aid bill.

A coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats put over the deep cut in a last-minute maneuver.

At first, the cut was interpreted as being $1,025,000,000. But a large part of the amount, while authorized by the House last year, had not been requested in this year's bill. Thus, part of the reduction did not count as far as this year's measure is concerned.

The authorization stood at $3.5 billion. The President had asked $4.5 billion. The House Foreign Affairs committee cut that to $4.1 billion, and the surprise move today cut it another $585 million.

The reduction itself was put into the bill on a roll call vote of 222-188.

On final passage a little later, the roll call count was 224-186. In the final vote, 172 Democrats and 52 Republicans voted for the bill and 66 Democrats and 120 Republicans against it.

Both votes were a direct turnaround from the record of Thursday night's long session when advocates of the reduction lost all around.

Member of Laneburg Board Quits

John H. Carlton, member of the Laneburg School Board for the past 12 years has resigned. During his tenure on the board he has at various times served as an officer of the board.

Carlton's term still has one year to go and a replacement for this unexpired term should be on the ballot in the coming election.

The regular 5 year term of M. D. Armstrong expires this year, and candidates for this position must also file petitions with the County Clerk on or before September 4th as the election date for annual school election was changed by the last legislature to the last Tuesday in September which will be September 24, this year.

Petitions to place the names on the ballot must be filed 20 days in advance of the election date and must contain the names of 20 qualified voters. Candidates for board membership in a district must be a qualified voter and own real estate in the district.

Anyone wishing to run a candidate for board member may do so by passing a petition and securing the necessary signatures. The petition should state whether the candidate is running for the 5 year regular term or the 1 year unexpired term.

AND LEAVE THE DRIVING TO US—Sheltered from the sweltering sun, a Syrian bus driver and his conductor take a snooze under their bus parked near the Syria-Lebanon border, which was closed at the time. The men appeared oblivious to the political upheaval that racked the country as they slept out the delay.

ASPECTS OF AN ANCIENT ART—Glass blower Edward F. Shotts, left, is helped by Dr. N. Calderon as he assembles a complicated apparatus in the scientist's laboratory in the Goodyear Research Building in Akron, Ohio. The entire system, only part of it pictured here, took Shotts five days to fabricate—plus 30 years' experience as one of a rare type of artisan. The scientific glassware will be used to study highly reactive chemicals in a vacuum. On his off days at home what does the wizard of the flame and blowing tube do? He makes things out of glass, of course, like boats, birds and vases. At right, Shotts adds finishing touches to a delicate glass calling vessel.

Frowns on GOP Move on Tax Program

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans plan a new attempt to write an economy requirement into the tax cut bill although President Kennedy opposes the move and has given new pledges to hold down spending.

In a letter Wednesday to Rep.
Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, Kennedy wrote:

"I see no reason for placing any conditions or contingencies on the effectiveness of the second phase of the tax reduction program."

This referred to a Republican move to make the second installment of the proposed tax cut dependent on holding the budget deficit or the national debt to a specified figure.

Two key Republican members of the tax-writing committee, Rep.
John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin and Rep. Howard H. Baker of Tennessee, said, however, the effort will be renewed.

A motion along these lines by Baker lost by only one vote in the committee last week.

Thanking Mills for his work on the bill and urging that remaining congressional action on it be taken promptly, Kennedy wrote that "any delay or contingent feature would substantially reduce the effectiveness of the legislation. This in turn could lead to decreases in revenues... and greater deficits."

The measure approved last week by the Ways and Means Committee asks Congress to provide a net tax relief of close to $11 billion. Kennedy originally suggested $10.3 billion.

Key members of the Senate and House have expressed doubts about passage this year.

She is a University of Arkansas student and the daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. Thurman Wood of Mountain Home.

est Queen contest in Little Rock

nesday it collected $4,646,164 in Relief and Pension Fund, and out will reach the Senate floor Monday. He indicated also that he feels the bill can be passed in the Senate. Passage in the House may be more difficult, he indicated.

Actually, the House has before it a similar group of legislative proposals tailored to end the dispute, but leaders in that body are waiting for the Senate to act.

The rail dilemma was given back to Congress when the carriers and brotherhoods failed to agree on the final form of the arbitration proposal suggested by Wirtz.

The carriers want to eliminate some 32,000 firemen's jobs they say were made unnecessary by the adoption of diesel engines which do not use coal. The unions have protested that job cuts would hamper the safety and efficiency of train operations.

DOROTHY DIX

CAN'T GET HIM UP IN THE MORNING

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: If my husband hadn't been almost perfect, we never could have overcome the seemingly impossible situations which plagued us during these ten years of marriage. I have four children by my first husband, and he two by his former wife, plus one by me. My kids and our baby are with us, the stepchildren with their mother. They're not my problem—it's my husband's sleeping habits.

I can't get him up in the morning. When I succeed, he curses and yells and, if late for work, swears it is my fault. I realize it's my duty to wake him, make his breakfast, pack his lunch and get him off to work on schedule but, occasionally, I oversleep too and then there is hell to pay.

Should I be reckless enough to open my mouth in protest, he raves all the louder and slams the front door as he walks out. This repeat performance is making me jump. Not so he. Everything is fine and dandy when he comes home. Being the forgiving kind, I try to ignore his morning tantrums but, as of now, I can no longer take the name-calling. Please tell me how to meet this nerve-racking situation. —Shattered.

Dear Shattered: Some require less sleep, others more. You and your husband evidently belong in the latter group. Does he go to bed early enough to get the necessary amount of sleep? Do you?

If not, change your habits so that neither one feels cheated in the morning when it's time to rise and shine. For his next birthday or Christmas present (whichever comes first) give him a clock radio with a card saying, "Darling, from now on you're on your own. Set the alarm and wake up smiling to sweet music."

If that doesn't work, turn the baby loose on the bed with him and-or bring him a cup of hot coffee as an eye-opener. Be careful to set him a good example by not oversleeping yourself.

Dear Helen: My brother and I recently moved from Pennsylvania to California because many of our friends did the same. One in particular, a school chum, has been trying to persuade me to come for years.

Since we last met she has been married and divorced. Now, she and her teen daughter live by themselves.

Whenever we are alone she wants to kiss and hug me. This is very disturbing. It just doesn't seem normal for two women to kiss. All I want from her is friendship. She is very sensitive. How can I discourage this abnormal display of affection without hurting her?

She must be sick. This new and altogether unpleasant experience makes me want to pack up and go right back where I came from. Should I? —Bothered.

Dear Bothered: No! After coming 3,000 miles across the country, I certainly would not return to the east coast for the strange reason you describe. It may be that your friend is "sick," but you are not. Either avoid her company or discuss the matter openly with her. You say you have many friends where you now are. Good! Don't let just one of them sour you on your move. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Firm Friends."

Dear Helen: I am a Catholic, my boy friends is Protestant, I want our children brought up in the Catholic faith. He thinks they should choose their own church. We love each other but have decided to quit seeing one another since we can't come to an agreement on this all-important subject.

Are we doing right to break up, or should we try and find some other way of settling the question? Should I compromise? If so, how? I have thought and thought until I'm going around in circles. Please print this so that other young couples faced with the same problem may also profit. —Sweet Sixteen.

Dear Sweet Sixteen: Aren't you a little ahead of yourself? It strikes me that you're crossing the bridge long before you come to it. And if you're "going around in circles" you'll not reach it anyway. In my opinion, 16 is too young for marriage. Relax. Finish school and acquire a number of boy friends of all faiths.

When and if you narrow the choice down to one, and he is not a Catholic, then discuss the problem with your parents and priest. He should do the same. I know many successful marriages where husband and wife have been of different faith. Awareness of the difficulties smooths the way.

Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Trapped Miners Southerners,

night, when Throne and Fellin said they heard brief shouts and tapping. A Navy survival expert at the scene said Bova's survival chances appeared slim.

By JAMES V. LAMB
Associated Press Staff Writer

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—Unfaltering rescue workers were dealt another setback today when a giant drilling rig suffered two mechanical breakdowns as workers moved on three fronts in efforts to reach three miners trapped 331 feet underground for 10 days.

The second breakdown halted the drilling of a new 12-inch escape hole shortly before dawn at a depth of 220 feet. A hoist cable that lowers and raises the drill mechanism on the 10-story, 65-ton rig jumped off a pulley.

There was no immediate indication how long it would take to repair it.

Earlier, drillers had been pushing ahead rapidly and smoothly with a 12-inch drill in the third attempt to sink an escape shaft to two of the trapped miners, David Fellin, 58, and Henry Throne, 28, who have been directing rescue operations and receiving food and supplies through a six-inch lifeline hole. Contact was first established with them Sunday night. The two are able to communicate with rescuers through a microphone lowered to them.

The first mechanical breakdown caused workers to lose an hour's time. This occurred when a packing bolt broke loose on the drilling rig.

Drilling resumed at 4 a.m. and continued for another hour, reaching 220 feet, when the hoist cable jumped the pulley.

Optimism prevailed for at least two of the men. The fate of the third, separated from his companions by a wall of debris and without food since the cave-in Aug. 13, remained uncertain. A Navy physician at the scene said his chances are pretty slim.

When all was said and done, these major amendments were agreed to:

—A ban on any aid to countries which ship to Cuba either by sea or by air. Several competing versions were offered by Florida congressmen, but the winner was by a Democrat, Rep. Dante B. Fascell.

—A one-year ban on any U.S. aid for a controversial steel mill at Bokaro, India, which would require an initial U.S. loan of $512 million. This amendment, by Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-Mich., did not mention Bokaro by name but was tailored to cover it. It had bipartisan support.

—A minimum interest rate of 2 per cent on loans from the Development Loan Fund. This would apply to about 70 per cent of the $1.5-billion program, which makes loans now at three-fourths of 1 per cent. Administration strategists hope to get it knocked out in conference with the Senate.

—A provision that 50 per cent of development loan funds be used "for purposes of economic development through private enterprise." This was fought by Democrats as possibly hampering such aid, particularly in the Alliance For Progress.

Utility Meeting

CROSSETT, Ark. (AP)—A special meeting will be held at Crossett Monday night to discuss the possibility of buying the Public Utilities Co., that serves the city. The Little Rock firms of Stephens, Inc., and T. J. Raney and Co., major stockholders in the utility, have said they would oppose its purchase by the city.

pils and 9,539 Negroes.

"Every child in School District No. 20 has the right to attend a school freely selected without regard to race or color," said Judge Martin.

District trustees decided to go along with the order and admit the 11 Negroes. But they instructed attorneys to appeal the ruling.

Laurence O'H. Stoney, board chairman, said it remains to be seen whether the school system can be operated in 1964. He urged all residents to respect the board's decision "and to maintain and observe proper discipline."

All secondary schools in South Carolina are segregated. But Harvey Gantt, 20, a Charleston Negro, was enrolled without incident at state-supported Clemson College last January under federal court order. Two Negroes are scheduled to enter the University of South Carolina next month.

Judge Martin's ruling came just 16 days after a two-day hearing on a desegregation suit filed in 1962 by parents of the 13 Negro children.

Football Injury Fata to Youth

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — A high school football player who suffered a severe concussion during a tackling session Tuesday, died Thursday night at a Pine Bluff hospital without regaining consciousness.

School Superintendent Burt Honey quoted Coach Travis Wedgeworth as saying William Giles, 15, of White Hall, four miles north of Pine Bluff on U.S. Highway 65, tackled another player, got up, then collapsed after taking a few steps.

A physician said Giles had been in a coma since the accident occurred.

Giles, a sophomore, was expected to play halfback for White Hall when it opened its season Sept. 6 in District 8-A North.

Warming Trend in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A warming trend forecast for Arkansas today was expected to push temperatures back into the summery 90s after a week of fall-like weather.

Fair skies were reported over most of the state today with some ground fog.

A slow moving cold front now over the northern plains gave only a faint hope of producing rain. It was moving southward toward Arkansas and the Weather Bureau said shower activity would be delayed until Sunday.

Stuart Leads White Sox Over Yanks

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Dick Stuart may not have had an equal since Zeke Bonura.

For the younger fans in the audience, Zeke Bonura was a large right-handed hitting first baseman who played in the majors—principally for the Chicago White Sox—from 1934 through 1940. He hit the ball as few players have done. He also played first base as few players have done.

The latter was his undoing.

Stuart, a large right-handed hitting first baseman for the Boston Red Sox, comes close to qualifying in each respect. He is hitting the ball, at least so far as power is concerned, better than any other player in the American League.

The Red Sox love to talk about that. They don't particularly care to talk about his fielding. Nor does Stuart. So perhaps we shouldn't. Except to quote Red Sox manager Johnny Pesky: "After all, Dick is 6-3 and weighs close to 220 pounds."

Which may explain his fielding, or something.

The figures explain his hitting. The Red Sox batter, who once hit 66 homers in the minors, drove in two runs on a couple of singles and a homer in Boston's 11-2 romp over Chicago Thursday. The performance increased his American League lead to 33 home runs and 93 runs batted in.

Stuart's performance and a grand-slam homer by the Red Sox' Ed Bressoud prevented the second place, White Sox from slipping any on the league-leading Yankees, who took a 7-4 licking from Cleveland despite a grand slam homer by John Blanchard. Kansas City beat Washington 6-2 and Baltimore whipped the Los Angeles Angels 5-1 in the only other games played.

In the National League, second-place St. Louis edged first-place Los Angeles 3-2, San Francisco beat Milwaukee 8-6 despite a grand slam homer by the Braves' Joe Torre and Roberto Clemente hit a bases-loaded homer in Pittsburgh's 9-3 conquest of the Chicago Cubs. The other clubs were not scheduled.

Stuart singled in Boston's three-run second inning and hit his 33rd homer in the next inning, providing all the working room rookie Dave Morehead needed to win. Bressoud, who also drove in runs with two sacrifice flies, hit his grand slam in a five-run seventh.

Blanchard's grand slam came in the sixth, but the Indians had built a 6-0 lead by that time and blanked the Yanks the rest of the way, gaining a split of the four-game series. Tito Francona, Fred Whitfield and Willie Kirkland homered for the winners.

BANCROFT'S BANCO BY NELSON C. NYE

© 1963 Nelson C. Nye. Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

THE STORY: Bancroft Benson has returned to the Ybarra ranch. He is very sorry he entered the deal with Dorrus to cheat the old man.

XVII

Shirl, of course, was talking through his hat. It was the guilt working in him, sheer panic fright. It had to be! The word, if Pat Garrett had been that kind, would have been all over.

I remembered the low, easy voice of him, the modest demeanor, the cool-mannered way he'd stepped into the breach when I had childishly accused old Ybarra of trespassing. Why, he'd twice been sheriff, a stock detective. He'd ranched near Fort Stanton, been a Texas Ranger. Shirl's concern was absurd.

But the fear bubbling in him—that crazy roll of bugged eyes, sparked a sudden tingling hope that here, with proper care, might be something I could use to lift the man off my back.

"All right," I said, trying to keep the thought covered, "stick close to the house until I find out what's going on over there."

With the sweat showing on him there was no longer in my mind the faintest doubt about Shirl. Dorrus. If there had been any hanky-panky with brands it was a cinch he was into it up his armpits. He wasn't showing all that scared for nothing.

Motioning him down, I climbed into the saddle and started off toward the ford. There must be some way I could use all this fright.

Crossing the river I pawed through a lot of things, none of which helped much. If I hadn't been so stinking smart back in town . . .

Here was plainly the crux of it—those signed papers that shy-ster was holding.

If the lawyer was hungry enough to be bought . . .

I knew with bitter insight the answer to that. If the man could be bought he was in Shirl's pocket!

I disliked going over there. I was resentful of being summoned in so peremptory a fashion, and more than just a little annoyed at circumstances which impelled me.

Says Remedy Lies in Civil Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Prosecutor Lyman Mikel of Fort Smith told the Arkansas Oil Merchants Association Wednesday that if there was a recurring gasoline price war in the Fort Smith and Van Buren areas, the association had remedy in civil court.

Mikel's statement came after B. B. Cook, secretary of the Little Rock-based association, wrote the prosecutor that he understood gasoline was being sold below cost in the two areas.

Mikel said in a letter that his office "looked with disfavor on any person or firm making any charge against any other person or firm . . . without first making an investigation to determine the truth."

4.7 Million Chicks

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas producers started 4,745,000 broiler chicks last week, the Crop Reporting Service estimated today, one per cent below the figure for the previous week. Of the total, 4,079,000 were hatched in Arkansas and 666,000 came from other states. There were 270,000 chicks shipped out of state.

For their work in getting new subscribers, seven Star newsboys won a four day trip to Six Flags Over Texas at Dallas. Those making the trip were Randy Worthey, Gary Hollis, Woyman Dugan, David Morris, Charles Rateliff, Doug Rogers and Robert Fravell. They were accompanied by Circulation Manager Pod Rogers.

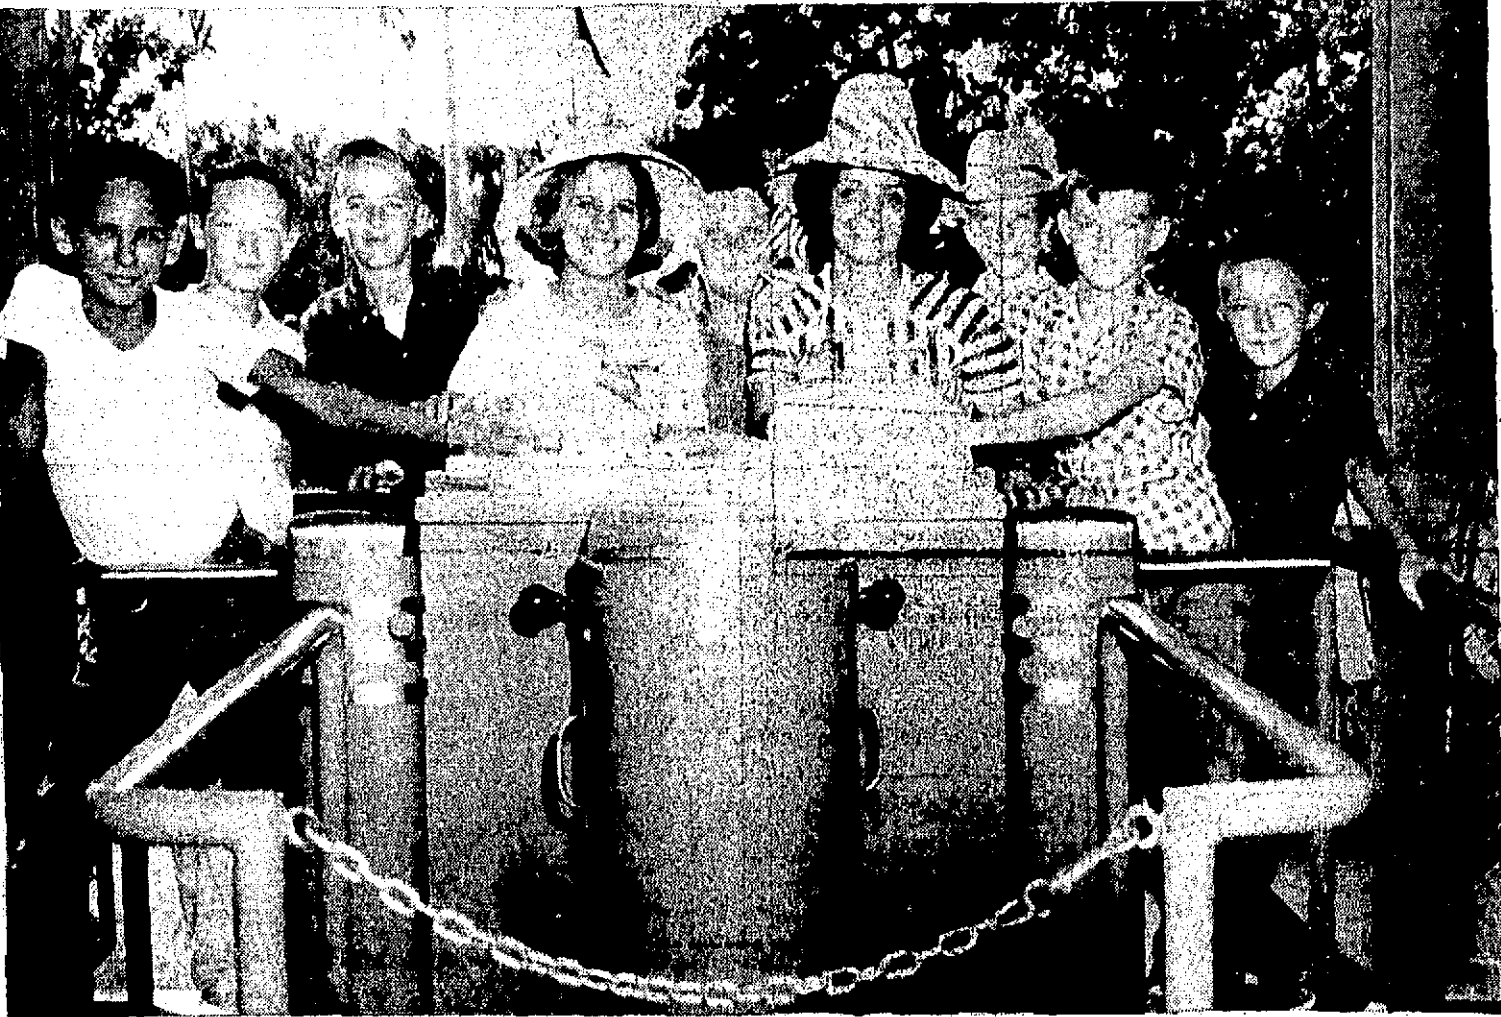

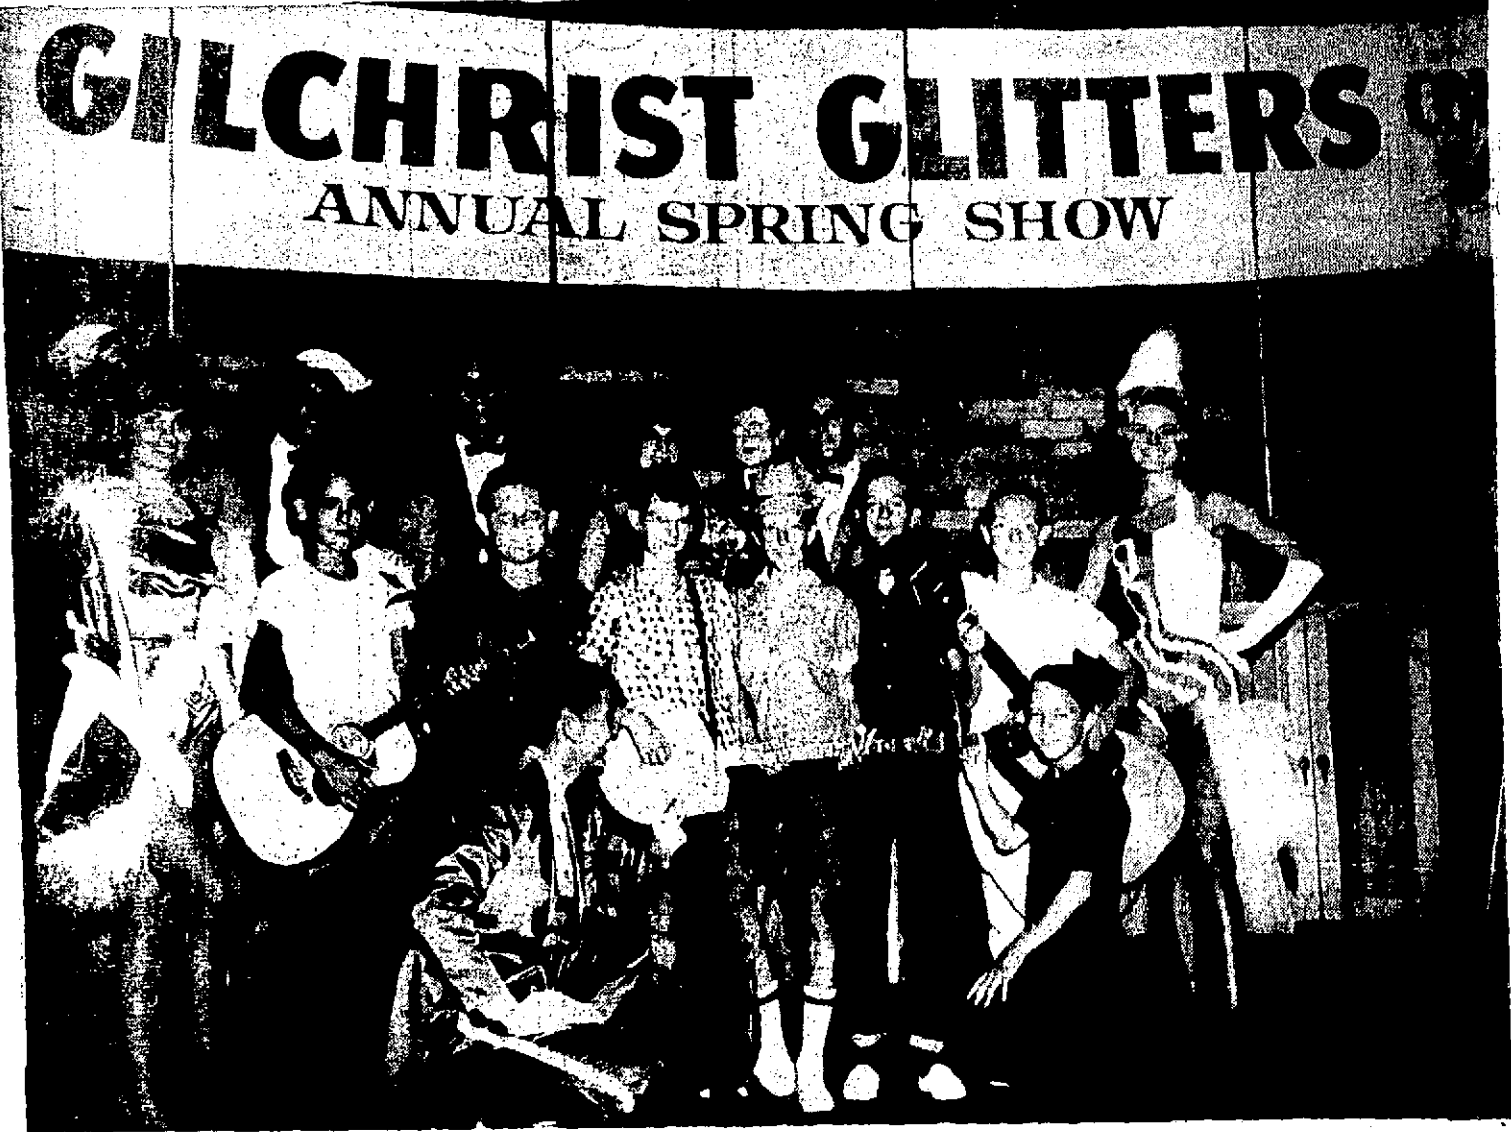

The youths left last Saturday and returned Wednesday. They spent two days at Six Flags, visited a carnival at the Texas State Fair grounds, saw part of a pro football game, went to church Sunday, saw the big Sears and Montgomery Ward mail order houses in Dallas and Ft. Worth, visited the airport, SMU and TCU campuses, saw the zoo and visited an ice skating rink.

Top left: The motel swimming pool was a top attraction for the youths. Besides swimming, they met a couple of young ladies.

Bottom Right: Janice Gilbert and Karen Smith, Six Flags employees, greet the boys at the gate and stamped their arms so they could ride free on anything on the showgrounds.

Equaling par with Palmer and Nicklaus were George Bayer, Ed Furgo; Ted Kroil and Rex Baxter Jr. Eleven others, including Gary Player who returned from a month's rest, were tied with 71s while southpaw Bob Charles, the British Open champion, was in a group of seven with 72s.

Cards Manage to Beat Loop Leaders

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals, almost left high and dry by Curt Flood, took off for Houston today after salvaging the finale of a three-game set with National League-leading Los Angeles and temporarily at least, throwing the Dodgers' runaway chances overboard.

Despite a base-running boner by the sure-footed Flood, the Cardinals kept the Dodgers from building their lead to a whopping 9½ games by edging the front-runners 3-2 Thursday night in a game punctuated by missed opportunities.

Flood, racing around third on Bill White's hit with the score tied 2-2 in the fifth, missed the bag and had to retreat. By the time Flood, who had four hits for the night, retraced his steps, it was too late to try and score.

As it turned out, the Cardinals snapped the tie in the sixth on a double by Ken Boyer and Julian Javier's single, ending the Dodgers' winning streak at seven games and trimming their lead to 8½ games.

The Cardinals, who came into Los Angeles only 5½ games back and riding a three-game winning streak, now will be looking to make up ground against the Colts while the Dodgers tackle the suddenly potent Milwaukee Braves.

The Braves, who have moved into sixth place by winning eight of their last 10, lost to third-place San Francisco 4-6 as Juan Marichal posted his 19th victory despite a grand slam homer by Milwaukee's Joe Torre. The Giants are 7½ back.

Travelers Win After 11 Innings

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Arkansas broke a ninth inning 2-2 deadlock Thursday to whip Buffalo 7-4 in an 11-inning International League baseball game.

Righthander Paul Brown had a no-hitter going until the fifth inning. He fanned 17 Bisons.

In other league play Atlanta downed Indianapolis 5-3, Columbus beat Jacksonville 2-1, Toronto trounced Richmond 11-1 and Rochester nipped Syracuse 6-5 in an afternoon game, then lost the nightcap 8-1.

The Travelers blasted pitchers Ray Daviault and Will Hunter for five runs in the final inning.

Brown's no-hitter faded when Cliff Cook hit a line drive over the left field fence. He was only one strike away from winning in regulation distance when Ed Bouchee slammed a drive into the center field seats in the ninth to tie the score.

IT'S FUNNY how an outstanding local opportunity can exist in Hope, Ark., and so few qualified men know about it . . .
